

Almost, Maine

Director: Bill Christie

Stage Manager: Alisha Morris

REHEARSAL REPORT #14

DATE: 11/3/11

START TIME: 6:31pm

END TIME: 10:01pm

REHEARSAL SUMMARY: Bill worked Prologue, Interlogue, Epilogue, They Fell, Seeing the Thing and This Hurts on stage. Trent worked Where it Went in the lobby.

SCENIC: Marci will NOT be putting her shoe back on after it drops, so it can be weighted with whatever we need to. For the laundry wall, we need to make sure there is some sort of basket or container in order to contain the iron to ensure that it does not fall off while flying, or if you can think of something better, just so long as it doesn't fall off and we can believe that it is a container that could take the heat from a hot iron.

COSTUMES: Can Matt have new kneepads? His are wearing out and not staying on his knees very well. We won't be working with Dave, Rhonda layers until Tuesday, November 8th. The side zip pants of Dave and Rhonda, we understand that the zipper goes down to the ankle and stops, can we make it so that the zipper come fully undone so that the actor is free to pop the snaps off the waistband and they can come all off?

HAIR/MAKEUP: none at this time

PROPERTIES: Bill suggested maybe using canned tonic water for the beer in Randy, Chad scene. That way, if it spills then it won't ruin the actor's costumes. We no longer need any extra padding on the ironing board because we love the sound it makes on Danny's head (also, it doesn't hurt him). Can we find a shirt that would logically be ironed (i.e. dress shirt, or button-up, etc.) to be pre-set on the ironing board as it's coming on for This Hurts?

LIGHTING: none at this time

SOUND: Alex is meeting with Bill at 5:30pm on Friday, November 4th. Alex, please come with sound examples for northern light effects. Bobby Covington is willing to send you some links of some good examples.

FRONT OF HOUSE/PUBLICITY/BOX OFFICE: none at this time

MISCELLANEOUS:

- T-Shirts are $10.00. We need 3 more people to get t-shirts in order to get the deal that we are quoted for, so even if you can't pay me until after Monday you can still order one. I will cover for you until you can pay me. If we don't have 3 more people order shirts, the price will go up.
